CENTRE FOR HERITAGE STUDIES

Reg. No- 22663/253 of 2007-2008

Overview

This document provides a complete, page-by-page content plan for the official website of the Centre for Heritage Studies (CHS), Odisha. It is based on the organisation's founding documents, published activity reports, major project proposals, and digital presence strategy prepared by CHS.

The website is envisioned not merely as an institutional page but as a comprehensive Digital Heritage Knowledge Repository and Networking Hub — serving researchers, students, heritage professionals, policymakers, tourists, local communities, and heritage enthusiasts across the globe.

This plan covers 8 major sections, 32 individual pages, and key content elements for each. Priority levels (High / Medium / Low) indicate suggested sequencing for phased development.

8 Major Sections	32 Individual Pages	4,000+ Sites to Document	82+ Life Members
----------------------------	-------------------------------	------------------------------------	----------------------------

Section A — Home Page

The first impression of CHS online. Must establish identity, mission, and invite exploration immediately.
